Happa Studios is a hub for unique brand communication and innovative marketing ideas. We work with all conventional media such as print, TV and web and are also involved in research projects exploring unconventional media techniques for advertising in upcoming markets like Pakistan. At Happa, our team is focused toward building a lifelong relationship with each of our clients, many of whom have found that working with a studio is more beneficial than handing over an annual budget to an agency. At Happa, from research to concept, design and final execution, our team is personally involved in making sure that our standard of design is at par with the international market and yet applicable in our local set up. To think global and act local is an essential work ethic at Happa Studios. Here, you will be presented with a stream of highly effective communication ideas which are well researched and are according to the market shifts of the time. We are constantly on the look out for diffe
