Almas is an Arabic word which means Diamond and Ishtiaque means Passion. The combination of these two words has given birth to the legacy of Almas. On August 14, 1967, Ishtiaque Almas formed this revolutionary new brand Almas Collection with the elegance, tradition and beauty combined in every of its creation. Thus, every August 14, Pakistans Independence Day, we call on all women to feel independent and confident when they wear Almas jewelry. This is how, from father to son, for more than fifty years, Almas has accompanied each woman with passion, style and legacy in the important events of her life. Almas designs carry forward the traditional woman of the past, blending with the woman of today and creating the woman of tomorrow each day.
