Over the years we have moved our main focus towards the manufacturing of top quality PET Preforms. In order to do this we have heavily invested our time and energy to acquire the latest technology and machinery that is fully equipped to do the job.

We are manufacturing PET preforms using Husky Injection Molding Systems. Husky has a global share of more than 60% when it comes to the PET Processing systems and that is due to its highly efficient machines and production that is worth the value. Therefore, we leave no stones unturned when it comes to manufacturing the highest quality of preforms.

We have a highly professional and a technical team that keeps a keen eye on all steps of the manufacturing process. This starts right from the top of the whole process, which is to ensure the purchase of top quality PET Resin. Decade of operational excellence, knowledge and experience has given us the strength to provide the right product that every customer desires.
