So, why not use it as our energy source for producing clean electricity? For a long time, we have been burning fossil fuels to meet our energy needs, resulting in the depletion of fossil fuels and severely damaging the Earth. It is high time we take action to correct our mistakes and save this world. Solar energy is a clean source of energy that is also highly reliable. Gladly, Pakistan is one of the countries with excessive sunlight throughout the year; except for a few months, Pakistan enjoys intense sunlight for a great many hours. Using solar energy in Pakistan is the most practical solution to meet all energy needs without damaging the Earth. The energy crisis faced by Pakistan and awareness about the Earth has made people start making clean choices like opting for solar energy.
